

OUR SOUTH LONDON COMMUNITY SUPPORT SERVICE CAN HELP YOU!

The South London Community Support Service is jointly funded by Jewish Care and Nightingale Hammerson to help you find the support and care you or your family may need.

Jewish Care is the largest health and social care organisation serving the Jewish community in London and the South East. Together with 1500 dedicated staff and 3000 generous volunteers, we run over 70 centres, and services, caring for more than 7000 people every week.

Nightingale House is one of the largest care homes in Europe. It is a leading provider of residential, nursing and dementia care to older members of the Jewish community. Based in Clapham, the home has a 170-year old history and is renowned for its excellent facilities, dedicated staff and high quality care.

SOUTH LONDON COMMUNITY SUPPORT SERVICE

WE CAN HELP YOU:

- Identify with you the types of support, care or services you may need and then signpost you to the most appropriate in the south London area.
- Advise you on Jewish Care and Nightingale Hammerson services.
- Support you and act on your behalf with local authorities, hospitals and other care providers.
- Help explain procedures, financial support and your entitlements.

Call us directly or ask a relative or friend to do so. We take referrals from local GPs or health or social care professionals. Our team comprises qualified community support practitioners and experienced and knowledgeable volunteers who can help you.

Call us now via Jewish Care Direct helpline: 020 8922 2222, please quote Stephen Ison to filter your call to our South London Community Support Service. For more information visit www.jewishcare.org
